NOTICE

It is to notify to all concerned that the AM-IIW Examination system is being re-introduced in a new format by The Indian Institute of Welding (IIW-India). A laboratory module, named Practical, is newly introduced to impart practical knowhow to a candidate. Successful candidates passing the AM-IIW Examination will be eligible to become Associate Member (AM) of The Indian Institute of Welding and the Certificate will be awarded by IIW-India. A successful candidate will also be given a certificate for becoming a 'National Welding Engineer'.

Minimum qualification for appearing in the new AM-IIW examination is Diploma in relevant disciplines. Final year students of Diploma as well as Degree Engineering Courses will also be eligible for registering themselves for appearing in this examination.

Candidates enrolled in AM-IIW after May 31, 2013 may have the option to switch over to the new syllabus.

Candidates enrolled before June 01, 2013 will get a chance to complete the AM-IIW examinations, up to 10 years from their enrolment date as per the existing norm, subject to maintaining the membership formalities.

New enrolment to AM-IIW Examination system has been started with the publication of the new course and curriculum and is notified in the Website of The Indian Institute of Welding, www.iiwindia.com. Validity for the New Enrolment to AM-IIW Examination system will be for 6 years. Exemption of papers from appearing in AM-IIW examination that were already passed in appropriate level will be permitted as usual on case to case basis upon receiving such application with copies of relevant testimonials.

The AM-IIW examination of the new course and curriculum will be started from winter 2020. Along with this, Examinations of existing course and curriculum will also be held as usual. Interested candidates may contact Examination Section for further details and enrolment.
